Comment: The local office of SVMC is horribly understaffed and it is affecting their ability to serve patients. More often than not, I am directed to urgent care because they simply cannot provide an appointment for the sort of thing I would typically use my PCP for - illness symptoms like a fever or sore throat. Urgent care is more than 30 minutes away, which means a few hours to get something addressed. Once I have an appointment the care is excellent, it's just getting in the door.
