Comment: As the state's only academic medical center, UVMHC serves a crucial role in training physicians, nurses, and techs that then go on to practice throughout the state. I have practiced, in varying capacities, at Copley Hospital, CVMC, and SVMC, and worked as an EMT with Morristown Rescue. At all these sites I was surrounded by people who had trained at UVMHC. Vermonters pride themselves on self-reliance, and if we wish to continue this tradition, we must continue to support our only academic medical center in its mission to train our state's future providers.
