Please recognize that the lack of specialists at UVMHC and in the state contributes to burnout of primary care providers as we are forced to try to provide care for issues we don't usually treat or have time to treat.

Please also address the fact that UVMHC does not reliably send consultation notes to primary care providers who are private and thus not in their network. It is bad for care and worsens burnout to have to go into their EMR to get those consult notes the majority of time. They send them to our PRISM inbox when we are not usually on their EMR (PRISM) and have to use a password system twice to get in and then have to print them out to get them into our patient's chart in our EMR. This is time consuming and demoralizing and, more importantly, a significant risk for poor patient care/health.
